So<A>(:) {V} ``to ^wash (a part of one's body)''. !Occurs only with incorporated body-part noun object.
So<A>(D) {PX} ``^plural''. |Prefix of verbs which require subject-concord (i.e. the classes V(lay) and V(lenay)), expressing the plurality of a 1st pl. exclusive (<AnlEn> `^we') or 2nd pl. <amben> `^you') ^subject, e.g. <A-jom-l-ay> `we (excl.) ate (it)' (contrast <jom-l-ay> `I ate (it)', <jom-lA-be> `we (incl.) ate (it)'), <A-jom-l-E> `you (pl.) ate (it)' (contrast <jom-l-E> `you (sg.) ate (it)'); this prefix coalesces with a following <A> as , e.g. <<A-AReb-bAb-le-n>> -> <aReb-bAb-le-n> `we shook our heads', <<A-Ab-jom-l-ay-ji>> -> <ab-jom-l-ay-ji> `we fed (it) to them'; it precedes all other prefixes in the verb, e.g. <<A-AD-jom-l-E>> -> <aD-jom-l-E> `you (pl.) didn't eat (it)', <<A-ADn-Ar-gAlAm-l-E>> -> <aDn-Ar-gAlAm-l-E> `you (pl.) didn't understand each other'; the plurality of 3d pl. subjects is expressed by the suffix <ji>.
So<A>(D) {PX} ``^possessive, ^genitive''. |(1) Prefix of nouns or noun phrases marking them as alienably or inalienably possessed by the preceding 3rd person noun or noun phrase, e.g. <mAnra-n A-bOGtEl-An> `the man's buffalo', <mAnra-n A-+nsAlO-n> `the man's wife', <mAnra-n A-u?u-n> `the man's hair', <anin A-u?u-n> `his hair', usually simply <A-u?u-n>, <mAnra-n A-su?uG-An A-k+ntal-An-ji> `the walls of the man's house', <A-k+ntal-An-ji> `(its) walls', <A-+nsAlO-n-ji> `his wives', or `their wife', or `their wives' (the ambiguity being due to the ambiguous scope of <ji>); the noun form to which <A> is prefixed is usually the absolute form, but some (not all) nouns with combining forms use these, e.g. <A-mO?OD-An> or <A-mAD-An> `his eye'; in some of the latter, the possessive-plus-combining form construction has been reinterpreted as absolutive, e.g. <AjeG> as in <<A-AjeG>> -> <ajeG> `his foot', originally <A-jeG> `his foot', cf. <je?eG>/<jeG> in other dialects. (2) Prefix of certain noun compounds expressing possession of the second member of the compound by the first, e.g. <A-ji-ra> `ivory' (lit. `poss.-tooth-elephant'), <A-mAD-Da> `tear' (lit. poss.-eye-water), <A-jEl-bOG> `buffalo meat' (`poss.-meat-buffalo'), <A-Da-bOG> `buffalo broth' (`poss.-water-buffalo'), <A-On-bOG> `buffalo calf' (lit. `poss.f-offspring-buffalo')''. *\^V018 Sa.<a?>, Kh.<a?> genitive suffix; original Possessor<-Ag> Possessed construction has been reinterpreted as Possessor <A->Possessed, with a switch from suffix to prefix; cf. Eng.<zounds>, said to be from ~<(God)?s wounds>; this prepared the way for the use of the prefix as an expression of inalienable possession. Cf. <atE> genitive suffix, e.g. <JEn-atE> `mine.'
